

Privacy Policy

Aerospace Fasteners Ltd are committed to safeguarding your privacy online. Please read the following policy to understand how your personal information will be treated as you make full use of our services. This policy may be updated on occasion.

What personally identifiable information is collected from you?

Aerospace Fasteners Ltd collect information in one way only from our website. If you use our contact forms when registering as a buyer/seller, downloading brochures/guides etc.

What are cookies and how are they used?

One of the most common ways for websites to remember your preferences is to use cookies. These are small pieces of data that live in your browser and mean that you don't have to repeat yourself every time you go back to a website. For example, they help search engines to remember that you want your search results in English and help online shops to remember the items that you've put in your shopping cart. Advertisers can also use cookies to deliver ads that are more relevant to you.

All modern browsers have tools to help you delete or block cookies from being set. But it's important to remember that many sites need cookies to work properly, so by deleting or blocking them, some parts of these websites might not function correctly.

We use Google Analytics to learn more about our user's activity. This does not collect specific information about you. It simply collects information such as page views, what browser you used, how long you stayed etc. None of this is tracked back to you as an individual user.

Who is collecting your information?

When you are asked for personal information on the Aerospace Fasteners Ltd website, you are sharing that information with Aerospace Fasteners Ltd. However, some activities will, by their very nature, result in your information being revealed to our website hosting company only for the purpose of supplying the correct information regarding your enquiry.

With whom may your information be shared?

Your information will not be shared with any third party without your written consent.

There are security precautions in place to protect the loss, misuse, or alteration of your information. Unfortunately however, no data transmission over the Internet can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result, whilst we strive to protect your personal information, Aerospace Fasteners Ltd cannot ensure or warrant the security of any information you transmit to us or from our online services, and you do so at your own risk. Once we receive your transmission, we make best efforts to ensure its security on our systems.

What else should you know about your online privacy?

Please keep in mind that whenever you voluntarily disclose personal information online – for example in ads that you post or through email – that information can be collected and used by others. In short, if you post personal information online that is accessible to the public, you may receive unsolicited messages from other parties in return. Ultimately, you are solely responsible for maintaining the secrecy of your passwords and/or any account information.